

II. TRENDS IN CASELOADS AND EXPENDITURES

Caseload Data

Remarkable declines in the Temporary Assistance for Needy Families program (TANF) caseloads continued through FY 2001. At the end of that fiscal year, the average monthly number of TANF recipients was 5.5 million, or 56 percent lower than the Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) caseload in FY 1996. From its peak of 14.4 million in March 1994, the number dropped by 63.2 percent to 5.3 million in September 2001. Over three-fourths of the reduction in the U.S. average monthly number of recipients since March 1994 occurred following implementation of TANF. These are the largest caseload declines in the history of U.S. public assistance programs. The 5.5 million persons receiving TANF in FY 2001 was the smallest number since 1967, and the lowest percentage of the population receiving assistance since 1961. It is noted that during this steady decline in the TANF caseload, States continued to respond to a significant volume of applications for assistance. In FY 2000, States processed 3.2 million applications; in FY 2001, 3.3 million were processed.

Over the last five years, 46 States have reduced their caseloads by at least 40 percent; nine by over 70 percent. Post-TANF declines range from 21.9 to 92.3 percent, with a median of 53.2 percent; over two-thirds of the declines were in the 40-70 percent range. See Map 2:1.

Several factors are believed to have contributed to the dramatic decline in the caseloads, including primarily implementation of welfare reforms, combined with opportunities presented by a robust economy. Several studies have been conducted to assess these and other factors on the decline in the caseload. A recent study by the City University of New York concluded that nearly 60 percent of the decline could be attributed to welfare reform, whereas only 20 percent could be attributed to the economy.

The dramatic decrease in the number of recipients has been accompanied by changes in the composition of TANF cases. In FY 1996, between 62.0 and 75.4 percent of AFDC recipients in the various States were children. By FY 2001, children represented from 60.8 to 84.5 percent of all TANF recipients. In FY 1996, 47 States reported that children accounted for 65 to 75 percent of their caseloads; only one State reported a number greater than 75 percent. In FY 2001, the percentage of recipient children in 35 States was in the 65-75 percent range; 11 States were in the 75-80 percent range; and five were over 80 percent. The change in the child composition has been directly impacted by the growth of child-only cases. Child-only cases increased from 22 percent of the caseload in FY 1996 to 35 percent of the caseload in FY 2000.

Expenditures in the TANF Program in Fiscal Year 2000

Overview

Under the Personal Responsibility and Work Opportunity Reconciliation Act of 1996, States are required to submit quarterly reports to DHHS detailing how they are spending Federal and State funds in the TANF program. This section provides information about the State spending in FY 2000. The data shown in the tables represent total spending in the period from October 1, 1999 through September 30, 2000.

FY 2000 Highlights

Overall Spending Increases Due to Increased Investments in Child Care and Work Activities

Total TANF expenditures (combined Federal funds and State MOE funds) for FY 2000 were $24 billion, $1.4 billion more than the amount spent in FY 1999. This increased spending is attributable to significant new investments in supportive services in the TANF program, such as child care and support of work activities. Compared to FY 1999, spending on cash assistance decreased by $1.9 billion. In FY 2000, the total spending on basic cash assistance was $11.5 billion compared to $13.4 billion in FY 1999. During the same period, States dramatically increased the amounts they spent through the TANF program on child care for TANF families. In FY 1999, States reported spending nearly $2 billion of combined Federal and State funds on child care, while in FY 2000 they spent $3.2 billion. The total spending on work activities in FY 2000 was $2.3 billion, an increase of 28 percent over the $1.8 billion spent in FY 1999.

Maintenance of Effort (MOE)

The welfare reform law requires States to continue to spend State funds at a level equal to at least 80 percent of their FY 1994 level, or 75 percent if they meet the minimum work participation rates. In FY 2000, all States met their MOE requirement at the 75 percent level. In fact, States report spending a total of $11.1 billion in State funds or about seven percent above what the annual MOE requirements would be if they met their work participation rate requirements.

Beginning with FY 2000, States must submit an annual report regarding their MOE expenditures in the TANF program and in Separate State Programs during the fiscal year. The report enables DHHS to learn about the ways States use their funds to help move families toward economic self-support and self-sufficiency. While States have continued to provide the traditional supportive services to families, like child care and transportation, many States have also used their funds to provide preventative services to help youth, young children, and families at-risk of either remaining or becoming welfare recipients. Programs for youth and children include: after-school and stay-in-school programs; teen pregnancy prevention programs; and community youth grants. These programs provide services like tutoring, counseling, job referrals, and community activities as alternatives to drug abuse, gang activity, sexual activity, and dropping out of school. State expenditures on initiatives such as home visiting programs for expectant families, families of newborns, and other at-risk families recognize the need to avert potential child abuse and neglect before it occurs. Some States also targeted services to further responsible fatherhood and parenting through a male involvement program in classrooms and coalitions, and by providing parental and family counseling services.

States also spent their MOE funds to provide services to help overcome barriers to work. These included domestic violence services, substance abuse services, foster and kinship care services, and family preservation services. Other supportive service expenditures that promoted family, work and job preparation included help with utilities, rent or mortgage assistance; primary and secondary school textbook rental fee reimbursement programs for low-income families, tuition and book fees for post-secondary school or training programs, part-time student grant programs; and medical services not met by Medicaid/SCHIP for children in low-income families. A few States provided income supplements by paying out the refundable portion of the State's earned income or working family tax credit. One State also used MOE funds to pay out the refundable portion of its child and dependent care tax credit.

Work Activities

A central objective of the TANF program is to move welfare parents into work. Nearly all States have changed their welfare programs to help parents get into jobs immediately, prioritizing work over other activities. In FY 2000, States spent $2.3 billion in combined Federal and State funds on work activities, an amount equal to 9.6 percent of total program expenditures for the same time period, and an increase of 28 percent over the $1.8 billion spent on work activities in FY 1999.

Transferring TANF Funds

States may transfer portions of their TANF grant to CCDF or the Social Services Block Grant (SSBG). Forty-nine States reported transferring FY 2000 funds in amounts ranging from less than 1 percent to 30 percent of their total. In total, $2 billion, or 8.2 percent of FY 2000 TANF funds, were transferred to the child care block grant, and $1.1 billion, or 4.5 percent, were transferred to the SSBG.

Administrative Costs

Total expenditures of both Federal and State funds on administrative costs amounted to $2.1 billion, or 8.8 percent of total expenditures in FY 2000, well within the 15 percent spending cap on administrative costs.

Separate State Programs

Twenty-five States chose to fund programs with separate State-only funds in FY 2000. Among those 25 States, total expenditures on Separate State Programs ranged from $291 thousand to $451 million. As a percentage of a given State's total State MOE spending, the amounts spent in Separate State Programs ranged from 0.2 percent to 65 percent. States with separate programs spent 65 percent of their Separate State Program funds on cash assistance. Most of the remaining funds were spent on child care and non-direct services categorized as other expenditures.

The annual MOE reports show that some States provided cash assistance programs to families with specific circumstances. For example, these States used separate State funds to provide financial assistance to: two-parent families; families with physical, mental health, substance abuse, or domestic violence issues; families in which the parent or caretaker is receiving or has applied for Supplemental Security Income; families in which the caretaker relative is not the parent; families in which a parent is attending post-secondary school; or families in which the minor parent is a student. A few States provided financial assistance to families with legal immigrants. States operating such programs generally continued to require individuals to participate in work activities. In the case of Separate State Programs for two-parent families, the work activities virtually mirror those in the State's TANF program. The rare exceptions usually involved families in which the parent or relative is temporarily or permanently incapacitated in some way (e.g., mental health or substance abuse issues, or receipt of Supplemental Security Income), or families that consist of a non-parent caretaker relative.

States also used separate State funds to help family members in a variety of other ways. These included the provision of supportive work and employment-related services; utility, rental or mortgage assistance; substance abuse services; family preservation services; medical assistance and/or food assistance to family members who are not qualified aliens; medical services not met by Medicaid/SCHIP for children in low-income families; child care; part-time student grant programs; grants to schools to improve educational achievements of at-risk students; or a refundable earned income or dependent care tax credit.

Expenditures on Non-Assistance

States reported spending $10.3 billion combined Federal TANF funds and State MOE funds on non-assistance, which included work activities ($2.3 billion), their child care expenditures ($2.6 billion), transportation services ($116 million), refundable tax credit programs ($464 million), pregnancy prevention programs ($102 million), two-parent family formation programs ($113 million), State information technology systems ($321 million), administrative costs ($2.1 billion), and miscellaneous other costs ($1.8 billion).

Pregnancy Prevention and Two-Parent Family Formation

All States have undertaken activities to either reduce the incidence of out-of-wedlock pregnancies or encourage paternal involvement in the lives of their children. Very little has been done to encourage healthy marriages. Financial expenditure data show States have expended approximately 1.4 percent of the Federal TANF funds and .35 percent of their State MOE funds on these initiatives. Most pregnancy prevention efforts have focused on teenagers. State approaches to preventing teen pregnancy can be divided into several categories: education curricula on sex, abstinence, and relationships; reproductive health services; youth development programs; media campaigns; efforts to prevent repeat teen births; and multiple component interventions. State initiatives directed toward family formation tend to focus on involvement of non-custodial parents in their children's lives. Other initiatives include parenting education, family crisis counseling, marriage counseling, mentoring, and eliminating eligibility criteria that discourage two-parent families from applying for assistance. Many States have also changed their eligibility rules for two-parent families to provide them equitable access to cash assistance and other benefits, when needy.

How States Used Federal Funds

States can carry forward unobligated TANF funds for use in future years. Cumulative unobligated balances for FY 1997 through FY 2000 equal $3.2 billion, or approximately five percent of the total $64 billion in Federal funds awarded to them since implementation of the TANF program. The $3.2 billion in unobligated funds (as reported on Table 2:15) remain in the Federal treasury until States have an immediate need to draw them down. Eleven States obligated all of the Federal funds they had available through the end of FY 2000. (See Table 2:15). The table below summarizes the detailed data in Table 2:15.

Cumulative Federal Funds Spent in FY 97 through FY 2000 as reported by States:

Percent	Activity	($ in billions)
8.7%	Transferred to CCDF	$5.6
6.0%	Transferred to SSBG	$3.9
71.7%	Expended	$45.8

<sup>1/</sup> The amounts shown in the Funds Available Column for FY 97, FY 98, and FY 99 are the sum of the unbilled and unliquidated balances of Federal Funds carried over from prior fiscal years. The amount shown for FY 00 is the amount of Federal grant awards for all four quarters of FY 00.
